Goal	Activity
To improve the child's ability to engage in social interaction and reciprocal communication	Ball Roll Game Sit facing each other and roll a ball back and forth saying “my turn” and “your turn” Listening and Acting Game Give multi-step instructions like, “Touch your nose, then clap, then stand up.” Increase difficulty gradually (2-step → 3-step → 4-step). Emotion Cards https://amzn.in/d/8SAi5B2

Pick emotion cards (happy, sad, excited, scared) and act them out without speaking then explain the emotion.

Role-Play Scenarios

Use emotion cards to support role-play themes that involve different emotions. During the role-play, ask the child, 'How are you feeling?' and let them identify or act out the emotion using the cards.

Incorporate “First-then” board

Draw the Feeling

When upset, offer crayons or markers and say, “Draw how your feelings look.” Then discuss what the drawing means.
